*"When this you see, remember me-
that I am not forgotten....."*

The above partial epitaph is still legible at the base of the weather-beaten gravestone erected to the memory of Captain Michael Dayton and located in the beautifully cared-for "Old Burying Ground of Ancient Westbury" (now Watertown, Conn). It is hoped that this record of his descendants will contribute to the fulfillment of his stated wish.

Michael⁵ Dayton (Ralph¹, Samuel², Isaac³⁻⁴) was born June 4, 1722 in New Haven, Conn., the 8th child (3d son) of Isaac Dayton II and his wife Elizabeth Todd. On January 29, 1746/7, he married Mehitable Doolittle who was born September 28, 1726/7 at Wallingford, Conn., and died July 9, 1813 at Watertown, Conn. His death occurred at Watertown on September 22, 1776, four months following his discharge from Revolutionary War service.

Very little is known of Michael Dayton's 54 years of life although a search of land, court and church records might be revealing. He followed his father's occupation of farming and at his death had accumulated a not inconsiderable estate of both real and personal property. A careful study of the inventory of his estate permits an evaluation of his mode of life and the varied aspects of his farming interests. His will, the inventory and details of the final distribution of his estate are included in this record, beginning page iv, for the interest of his descendants.

His service in the Revolutionary Army, as was quite common, was not continuous but consisted of at least two known separate enlistments. After being commissioned Ensign in the Second Company (State Militia) of Waterbury, Conn., in May 1772 and as Captain in a Northbury company in October 1774, Michael Dayton is recorded as a private, May 11th through December 20, 1775, in the 5th Company which served at the Siege of Boston. Commanded by Colonel David Wooster, 1st Regiment, the 5th Company was under the direction of Captain Caleb Trowbridge and Captain Benedict Arnold, although the latter never served with the company. A later and final enlistment, during which Michael Dayton was stationed at Peekskill Barracks in New York State, dated from April 5, 1776 to May 21, 1776 when illness (camp distemper) terminated his service. Several of his sons are supposed to have served in the same companies with him.

At the time of his death, the three eldest of his thirteen children (Charles, David and Miriam) had married. The next five children (Michael Jr., Justus, Mehitable, Loly and Elizabeth) ranged in age from 24 to 17 years and were presumably living at home. As the five youngest (Isaac, Samuel, Lyman, Olive and Abel) were between 15 and 8 years of age, a probate court in May, 1777 appointed the mother as guardian (under bond) of the three youngest children. The sons Isaac and Samuel were permitted to choose their guardians; Isaac chose his mother and Samuel selected his older brother David.

Key to Lineage Numbers

Each descendant listed has been assigned a lineage number for the purpose of definite identification and to provide a simple means of tracing each dependent's ancestry to Michael Dayton. All descendants have the initial letter 'M' to their lineage number, the thirteen children of Michael Dayton being numbered 'M1' through 'M13' in the order of their birth. Each descendant of the next generation retains the parent's number with an added numeral to indicate the descendant's order of birth - thus (see page 1) M11 was the 1st child of M1, M111 was the 1st child of M11, etc. M11 through M18 were brothers and sisters (children of M1); M112, M124, M1711 were therefor all first cousins, and their children (M1126, M1242, M17111) were 2d cousins, etc. The compiler (M124103) is a 3d cousin to all descendants of M11 through M18 having 5 numerals in their lineage numbers; he is a 4th cousin of all descendants of M2 through M13 having 5 numerals in their lineage numbers. It is urged that readers become thoroly familiar with this system of lineage numbers so that relationships may be readily established.

DISTRIBUTION OF CAPTAIN MICHAEL DAYTON'S ESTATE

To the Honorable Court of Probate for the District of Woodbury, these are to enform that the following is a distribution of the estate of Capt Michael Dayton, late of Waterbury, deceased, as effected by us the subscribers under oath June the 9th AD 1777.

To the widow: the use & improvement of the south underroom of the house, chamber & garret over it, the one-third of the cellar (viz: on the west side) during her natural life (at L32-0-0). The use of the westward bay of the barn and the use of the floor one-third of the time during her natural life (at L3-6-8) and also the use of one-third of the barnyard with liberty to pass to & from said barn and yard unmolested during said term. To her the rest of the land that is not hereafter let to David & Michael, lying on the eastward side of the highway that goeth by the house be it more or less, and butts northward part on Lockwood's land and part on highway eastward on William Scovil's land, south on land hereafter left to Michael, and westward on highway, to her during her natural life (at L15-11-8). Eleven acres & 88 rods of land to be taken off of the south side of the home lot so-called, the east end 17 rods wide, the west end 31 rods wide, and to extend westward to a cherry tree which stands on the west side of the brook, and butts south on Capt Samuel Hickcox' land and east on highway, she the said widow to have the use and improvement of the above described pieces of land during her natural life (at L69-18-4)

To Charles: to a right in the House (15-0-0) with liberty to pass to & from the well forever. Four acres & 127 rods of land lying on the northward part of the home lot and is eleven rods wide at the east end, the south side 34 rods long, from the stone wall west to a heap of stones in the meadow, then north 52 rods to highway a heap of stones, then east 18 rods to Charles' land, butts north on highway east on his own land, south on land let to Samuel and west on land let to Justus, to him and his heirs forever (at L27-10-2). To cash L1-19-0. A right in the barn (at L0-16-1) with liberty to pass to & from said barn with team and cart. To one pair wig (L0-8-0); to one bee hive (L0-1-0).

To David: The whole use of the kitchen & cellar under it as long as it shall stand, with liberty of the well and to pass to & from it and also with liberty to bring and lay his wood by said kitchen, so long as said kitchen shall stand (at L3-0-0) To cash L2-3-0. About four acres & half of land lying on the eastward side of the highway against the house including about half an acre lyeth in Narrow Slip, between Samuel Hickcox' land on the south & William Scovil on the north, the whole of said land exclusive of said slip is 8 rods wide at the east end and 18 rods at the west end, butting south on said Hickcox land, east part on said slip and part on said Scovil's land, north on land hereafter let to Michael and west on highway (at L20-14-2). To one pair wig (L0-5-0). A right in the barn (at L0-16-1) with liberty to pass to & from said barn with team and cart.

To Michael: To a right in the house & cellar with liberty to pass to and from it, to him and his heirs forever (at L3-0-0) and also liberty of the well, and to pass to & from it. About 4 acres & a half of land lying on the eastward side of the highway near the house, 21 rods wide at the west end and 9 rods wide at the east end, and butts east on the land of William Scovil, south on land let to David, north on land let to the widow, to him & his heirs forever (at L20-14-2). A right in the barn (at L0-16-1) with liberty to pass to and from said barn with team & cart. To one leather strap (L0-2-0); to cash (L2-6-0)

To Justus: to a right in the house and cellar and liberty to pass to & from it to him & heirs forever (at L3-0-0), with the use of the well & liberty to pass to & from it. About 3 acres & a half of land lying in the northwest part of the home lot, and butts east on the land let out to Charles, south on land let out to Samuel, west on Jacob Foot's land, and north part on said Foot and part on highway, to him & his heirs for ever (at L20-14-2). The gross inventory was estimated at about L660, of which L382 was real property and L278 was personal estate. Outstanding debts* totaled L258 leaving L402 for distribution to the widow and 12children. The widow received rights and property estimated at L143, the oldest son Charles was allotted L35, the other seven sons were allotted about L27 each and the four girls (other than Miriam) received about L13½ each

* Debts against the estate included two school tax assessments, a "school mortgage" of L1, minor amounts (less than L1) to about 30 creditors, amounts between L1 and L2 to another 9 creditors, and 6 larger amounts (L3 to L41) to named individuals. A "debt" of 6 shillings to the widow was also itemized.

 As noted above, the daughter Miriam was excluded from the final allotments.

The first part of the report is devoted to a general survey of the situation in the country. It is found that the country is in a state of general depression, and that the people are suffering from want and distress. The cause of this is attributed to the war, which has destroyed the country's resources, and to the government's mismanagement of the country's affairs. The report then goes on to describe the various measures which have been taken by the government to deal with the situation. These measures are found to be inadequate, and the report recommends that more effective steps should be taken to deal with the crisis. The report concludes by stating that the country is in a state of emergency, and that the government should take immediate action to deal with the situation.

1. The first part of the paper is devoted to a general discussion of the problem of the origin of life. It is shown that the problem is one of the most important and most difficult in the history of science.

2. The second part of the paper is devoted to a detailed discussion of the various theories of the origin of life. It is shown that the most plausible theory is the one which assumes that life originated from non-living matter.

3. The third part of the paper is devoted to a discussion of the evidence in favor of the theory of the origin of life from non-living matter. It is shown that the evidence is very strong and that the theory is well supported by the facts.

4. The fourth part of the paper is devoted to a discussion of the various objections to the theory of the origin of life from non-living matter. It is shown that the objections are not valid and that the theory is still the most plausible one.

5. The fifth part of the paper is devoted to a discussion of the various methods of determining the age of the earth. It is shown that the most reliable method is the one which assumes that the age of the earth is determined by the rate of decay of radioactive elements.

6. The sixth part of the paper is devoted to a discussion of the various methods of determining the age of the universe. It is shown that the most reliable method is the one which assumes that the age of the universe is determined by the rate of expansion of the universe.

THE HISTORY OF THE UNITED STATES OF AMERICA

FROM THE FOUNDATION OF THE COLONIES TO THE PRESENT TIME

The history of the United States of America is a story of growth and development. It begins with the first European settlers who came to the New World in search of a better life. These settlers found a land of vast resources and a people who were different from them. They learned from the Indians and adapted to the new environment. Over time, the colonies grew and became more independent. They fought for their rights and eventually won their freedom from Britain. The United States was born. In the years that followed, the country grew in size and population. It became a nation of immigrants, with people from all over the world coming to live in America. The country was united by a common language and a common culture. It was a land of opportunity, where anyone could make a better life for themselves. The United States became a world power, with a strong economy and a powerful military. It led the world in many ways, and its influence was felt everywhere. Today, the United States is still a great nation, with a rich history and a bright future.

The first part of the paper is devoted to a discussion of the general principles of the theory of the structure of the atom. It is shown that the structure of the atom is determined by the laws of quantum mechanics, which are based on the principle of the conservation of energy and the principle of the conservation of momentum. The structure of the atom is determined by the laws of quantum mechanics, which are based on the principle of the conservation of energy and the principle of the conservation of momentum.

The first thing I noticed when I stepped out of the car was the cold air. It was a sharp contrast to the warm blanket of the car's interior. I took a deep breath, feeling the crispness of the morning air. The sun was just beginning to rise, casting a soft glow over the landscape. I could see the rolling hills in the distance, their peaks shrouded in a light mist. The sound of birds chirping was faint but noticeable, adding to the serene atmosphere. I walked slowly, savoring the quiet solitude of the early morning. The path I was on was well-trodden, leading me deeper into the woods. The trees were tall and slender, their branches reaching towards the sky. The ground was covered in a thick layer of fallen leaves, crunching under my feet. I felt a sense of peace and tranquility, a moment of stillness in a world that was always in motion. The air smelled fresh, with a hint of pine and earth. I closed my eyes for a moment, letting the beauty of the scene wash over me. It was a perfect start to a new day, a chance to begin with a clean slate and a clear mind. The world was waiting for me, and I was ready to embrace it all.

THE HISTORY OF THE
CITY OF BOSTON
FROM 1630 TO 1800

The history of the city of Boston, from 1630 to 1800, is a story of growth and change. It begins with the arrival of the first settlers in 1630, who founded the city as a haven for religious freedom. Over the years, Boston grew from a small village into a major center of commerce and industry. The city played a key role in the American Revolution, and its citizens were instrumental in the fight for independence. In the 18th century, Boston became a center of intellectual and cultural life, with many of the leading figures of the Enlightenment and the American Revolution living and working there. The city's economy was based on trade and commerce, and it was a major port for the New England colonies. In the 19th century, Boston continued to grow and change, with the city becoming a center of industry and manufacturing. The city's population increased rapidly, and it became one of the most densely populated cities in the world. The city's economy diversified, with the rise of new industries such as textiles and machinery. Boston also became a center of education and culture, with many of the leading universities and colleges in the country located there. The city's history is a testament to the resilience and spirit of its citizens, who have built a city that has stood the test of time.

1. The first part of the paper is devoted to a general discussion of the problem of the origin of life. It is shown that the problem is one of the most important and most difficult in the history of science. The author discusses the various theories of the origin of life, from the spontaneous generation theory to the modern theories of the origin of life from non-living matter. The author concludes that the most probable theory is the theory of the origin of life from non-living matter.

2. The second part of the paper is devoted to a detailed discussion of the theory of the origin of life from non-living matter. The author discusses the various stages of the process, from the formation of the first organic molecules to the formation of the first living cells. The author concludes that the theory of the origin of life from non-living matter is the most probable theory.

3. The third part of the paper is devoted to a discussion of the evidence for the theory of the origin of life from non-living matter. The author discusses the various lines of evidence, from the study of the fossil record to the study of the chemical composition of the early Earth. The author concludes that the evidence strongly supports the theory of the origin of life from non-living matter.

4. The fourth part of the paper is devoted to a discussion of the implications of the theory of the origin of life from non-living matter. The author discusses the various implications, from the implications for the study of the history of life to the implications for the study of the nature of life. The author concludes that the theory of the origin of life from non-living matter has important implications for the study of the history of life and the nature of life.

5. The fifth part of the paper is devoted to a discussion of the future of the study of the origin of life. The author discusses the various areas of research that need to be pursued in order to solve the problem of the origin of life. The author concludes that the study of the origin of life is one of the most important and most difficult in the history of science, and that it is essential that it be pursued with the utmost care and attention.

The first part of the paper is devoted to a general discussion of the problem of the origin of life. It is shown that the problem is not only a scientific one, but also a philosophical one. The scientific aspect of the problem is concerned with the question of how life arose from non-life. The philosophical aspect is concerned with the question of whether life is a necessary part of the universe or whether it is a mere accident.

The second part of the paper is devoted to a discussion of the various theories of the origin of life. These theories are divided into two main classes: the theory of spontaneous generation and the theory of biogenesis. The theory of spontaneous generation is the older of the two and is based on the idea that life can arise from non-life. The theory of biogenesis is the newer of the two and is based on the idea that life can only arise from pre-existing life.

The third part of the paper is devoted to a discussion of the evidence for and against the various theories of the origin of life. It is shown that the evidence for spontaneous generation is weak, while the evidence for biogenesis is strong. It is also shown that the evidence for the theory of evolution is strong, while the evidence for the theory of creation is weak.

The fourth part of the paper is devoted to a discussion of the implications of the various theories of the origin of life. It is shown that the theory of spontaneous generation implies that life is a necessary part of the universe, while the theory of biogenesis implies that life is a mere accident. It is also shown that the theory of evolution implies that life is a necessary part of the universe, while the theory of creation implies that life is a mere accident.

1. The first part of the document is a letter from the President of the United States to the Congress, dated January 3, 1862. It contains a report on the state of the Union and the progress of the war against the rebellion. The President mentions the recent victories of the Union forces and expresses confidence in the ultimate success of the cause. He also discusses the financial and military resources of the Union and the need for continued support from the Congress.

2. The second part of the document is a report from the Secretary of the Treasury, dated January 10, 1862. It provides a detailed account of the financial operations of the government during the year 1861. The report includes information on the revenue received from various sources, the expenditures of the government, and the state of the public debt. It also discusses the measures taken to manage the finances of the government during the war.

3. The third part of the document is a report from the Secretary of the Interior, dated January 15, 1862. It describes the progress of the land survey and the management of the public lands. The report mentions the discovery of new land areas and the progress of the surveying work. It also discusses the policies regarding the sale and use of the public lands.

4. The fourth part of the document is a report from the Secretary of the Navy, dated January 20, 1862. It provides an overview of the naval operations and the state of the fleet. The report mentions the construction of new ships and the progress of the repairs to existing vessels. It also discusses the activities of the navy in the Atlantic and Pacific Oceans.

5. The fifth part of the document is a report from the Secretary of the War, dated January 25, 1862. It details the military operations and the state of the army. The report mentions the movements of the army and the progress of the campaigns. It also discusses the equipment and supplies of the army and the progress of the training of new recruits.

6. The sixth part of the document is a report from the Secretary of the State, dated February 1, 1862. It discusses the diplomatic relations of the United States with other countries. The report mentions the recent negotiations with Great Britain and France regarding the blockade of the Southern ports. It also discusses the relations with Mexico and the Central American countries.

7. The seventh part of the document is a report from the Secretary of the Agriculture, dated February 5, 1862. It provides information on the state of the agriculture and the progress of the land reclamation work. The report mentions the production of various crops and the progress of the irrigation projects. It also discusses the measures taken to improve the soil and the methods of farming.

8. The eighth part of the document is a report from the Secretary of the Education, dated February 10, 1862. It discusses the state of the education system and the progress of the various educational institutions. The report mentions the enrollment of students and the progress of the teaching. It also discusses the measures taken to improve the quality of the education.

9. The ninth part of the document is a report from the Secretary of the Commerce, dated February 15, 1862. It provides information on the state of the commerce and the progress of the various commercial activities. The report mentions the trade with foreign countries and the progress of the shipping industry. It also discusses the measures taken to regulate the commerce and the protection of the interests of the merchants.

10. The tenth part of the document is a report from the Secretary of the Finance, dated February 20, 1862. It discusses the state of the finance and the progress of the various financial operations. The report mentions the management of the public debt and the progress of the currency reform. It also discusses the measures taken to stabilize the financial system and the protection of the interests of the taxpayers.

The first part of the document discusses the importance of maintaining accurate records of all transactions. It emphasizes that every entry, no matter how small, should be carefully documented to ensure the integrity of the financial data. This includes recording dates, amounts, and the nature of the transactions.

The second part of the document outlines the procedures for reconciling the accounts. It states that the accounts should be reconciled at the end of each month to identify any discrepancies. If a discrepancy is found, it should be investigated immediately to determine the cause and correct the error.

The third part of the document describes the process of preparing the financial statements. It notes that the statements should be prepared on a regular basis, typically at the end of each quarter. The statements should include the balance sheet, the income statement, and the cash flow statement.

The fourth part of the document discusses the importance of maintaining proper documentation for all transactions. It states that all receipts, invoices, and other supporting documents should be kept in a secure and organized manner. This documentation is essential for verifying the accuracy of the financial records.

The fifth part of the document outlines the responsibilities of the accounting department. It states that the accounting department is responsible for ensuring that all transactions are properly recorded and that the financial statements are prepared accurately and on time.

The sixth part of the document discusses the importance of maintaining proper communication with the other departments of the organization. It states that the accounting department should work closely with the sales, purchasing, and other departments to ensure that all transactions are properly recorded and that the financial data is accurate.

The seventh part of the document describes the process of auditing the financial records. It notes that the financial records should be audited at least once a year by an independent auditor. The auditor should review all transactions and the financial statements to ensure that they are accurate and comply with the applicable accounting standards.

The eighth part of the document outlines the procedures for handling any disputes or disagreements regarding the financial records. It states that any disputes should be resolved through a fair and equitable process, and that the accounting department should be responsible for providing the necessary documentation and information.

The ninth part of the document discusses the importance of maintaining proper security for the financial records. It states that all financial records should be stored in a secure and protected environment, and that access to the records should be restricted to authorized personnel only.

The tenth part of the document describes the process of archiving the financial records. It notes that the financial records should be archived at the end of each year, and that the archived records should be stored in a secure and accessible manner.

The eleventh part of the document outlines the responsibilities of the accounting department in the event of a merger or acquisition. It states that the accounting department should be responsible for ensuring that all financial records are properly transferred and that the financial statements are prepared accurately.

The twelfth part of the document discusses the importance of maintaining proper communication with the shareholders and other stakeholders. It states that the accounting department should provide regular updates on the financial performance of the organization, and that it should be responsible for responding to any inquiries or requests for information.

The thirteenth part of the document describes the process of preparing the annual financial report. It notes that the annual financial report should be prepared at the end of each year, and that it should include all of the financial statements and other relevant information.

The fourteenth part of the document outlines the procedures for handling any changes to the accounting policies or procedures. It states that any changes should be approved by the appropriate authority, and that the accounting department should be responsible for implementing the changes.

The fifteenth part of the document discusses the importance of maintaining proper documentation for all changes to the accounting policies or procedures. It states that all changes should be documented in writing, and that the documentation should be kept in a secure and organized manner.

The sixteenth part of the document describes the process of reviewing the financial records on a regular basis. It notes that the financial records should be reviewed at least once a year, and that the review should be conducted by an independent party.

The seventeenth part of the document outlines the responsibilities of the accounting department in the event of a change of control. It states that the accounting department should be responsible for ensuring that all financial records are properly transferred and that the financial statements are prepared accurately.

The eighteenth part of the document discusses the importance of maintaining proper communication with the regulatory authorities. It states that the accounting department should provide regular updates on the financial performance of the organization, and that it should be responsible for responding to any inquiries or requests for information.

The nineteenth part of the document describes the process of preparing the annual financial report. It notes that the annual financial report should be prepared at the end of each year, and that it should include all of the financial statements and other relevant information.

The twentieth part of the document outlines the procedures for handling any changes to the accounting policies or procedures. It states that any changes should be approved by the appropriate authority, and that the accounting department should be responsible for implementing the changes.
